

Hi everyone,

As Santa Ana's approach, I'd like to share an idea with you that worked excellent for us during our last fire evacuation.

Steve was smart and cleaned out two of our Waste Management bins with wheels...we loaded lots of stuff in them, and he pulled it onto his truck (after duct taping them closed). They fit more than you might think...and they are easy to move about...can wheel it in the house...and make less trips to the car.

They fit most our clothes, computer (tower, monitor and keyboard), pictures, silver, jewelry box, Syd's favorite books, photo albums, all family movies, files, etc. Amazing how much it can hold!!

We should all keep one handy for that...and if we don't have time to clean it first, line it with a sheet or wrap stuff up in one...

If you don't have a truck, make plans with a neighbor or family who does, to drive by and get your bin.

Maybe we have a peaceful, fire-free year (or 30!!)

Johnna
